BEST OF GWINNETT 2002

patrons and clients. Other responses, like "anywhere in Duluth" and "Teachtree Corners" made us feel good about how you feel — after all, anywhere is good as long as it's Gwinnett.

BEST PLACE FOR A BUSINESS MEETING:

The Gwinnett Civic & Cultural Center is the pick of the pack with all its offerings, from the new 21,600-square-foot ballroom to expansive exhibit halls, catering services and more. And with the new arena due to open next spring, there's simply no contest. But The 1818 Club is also tops, according to our readers.

BEST ACCOUNTING FIRM:

Numbers, numbers, numbers. At tax time or anytime, it's always a crunch. But our readers tell us Moore, Stephens, Tiller is one of the best. Tarpley & Underwood, Ashworth & Associates, Jackson, Reece & Scott, Rhodes, Young, Black & Duncan, and Jones, McKnight & Edmonson are also excellent.

BEST LAW FIRM:

When the chips are down, who you gonna call? Well-heeled Gwinnett attorneys are ready, willing and able to help out. Whether plaintiff or defendant, be consoled that there's a counselor nearby. Seek the guided help of Andersen, Tate, Mahaffey & McGarity. Other great legal help can be found in Randolph G. Rich, Webb, Tanner & Powell, Thompson, O'Brien, Kemp & Nasuti, Chandler & Britt, Davidson & Tucker or Peavy & Lancaster.

BEST HOME BUILDER: Building a house is as individual as the residents who'll eventually occupy it. There are multiple expectations and great solutions from an ample number of qualified experts who can help make your dream come true. Our readers like a wide sampling of experts, from John Wieland Homes & Neighborhoods to Touchstone

Homes, Brayson Homes, the Bowen Builders Group and Bowen & Bowen Construction. Winmark Homes also received high marks. ▶
